QualPass Training is the Welsh accreditation body for training providers that wish to offer high quality Plant Training, Safety Skills and Awareness courses that are both real and relevant.

Despite being a relatively new accreditation, to date, approximately 3,000 QualPass cards have been issued to delegates across Wales and further afield with employers such as Murphy Oil, PUMA Milford Haven, Qinetiq, Valero, SEM Logistics, Mainstay Marine and Svitzer Middle East purchasing QualPass Training for their employees.

Real and Relevant Training?

We recognise that Health & Safety Training is often looked upon, by both delegates and employers, as an unnecessary hoop to jump through in order for them to earn their living. We hope, that like us, you are passionate about changing this perception.

Apart from the obvious brief of ensuring that all our courses meet Statutory requirements, industry Practice and HSE guidelines the QualPass Training Course Development Team work with the single objective of making our courses Real and Relevant.

Training Packages

Our Training Packages are constantly being added to and refreshed in order that they reflect current best practice. Packages include:

Skills & Awareness

- Train the Trainer
- Manual Handling Awareness
- Slinger Signaller
- Abrasive Wheels Awareness
- Mobile Tower Scaffolding
- Confined Space Entry
- Working at Heights

Plant Operator Training

At the core of our hand picked Course Development Team are specialist Instructors originating from a variety of sectors with, amongst them, a vast number of years training experience. Each has been selected not only for their occupational competence and qualifications but also for what they can add to our development goals.

Course material has been overviewed by two senior Health & Safety Practitioners and practicing Instructors, with prior backgrounds in education, training, mineral extraction, waste management and construction.

Training Records

Training courses delivered under QualPass are supported by comprehensive training records and assessments providing documentary proof of the standard achieved by each learner.

We recognise that receiving a high quality product and service is vital to you and your clients. Whilst we constantly strive to achieve the highest quality standards, formalising our Quality Systems will allow organisations to buy into QualPass Training with added confidence. We are, therefore, making the attainment of ISO 9001:2008 our priority in order to guarantee our management systems. This will in time be augmented and supported through the attainment of ISO/IEC 17065:2012 to guarantee that QualPass approved products are accurately assessed for conformity.

Community Benefits

Community Benefit Clauses are now standard within any contract involving Public Funds.

Organisations such as Tier 1 contracting companies who are awarded these contracts in turn expect to see evidence of Community Benefit activity from their supply train.

Evidence of contribution to education and the Training of the economic inactive are defined as Community benefits.

QualPass as part of its Operational Plan 2017 undertakes to donate 15% of certification fees to nominated Community benefit projects that focus on skills development. Within Pembrokeshire, QualPass support the Danny Fellows Training Trust (<http://www.dannyfellowstrainingtrust.org.uk/>)

This implies that businesses who specify and support QualPass certification and training can actively demonstrate elements of Community Benefit commitment.
